Village president ousting treasurer

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer
Mrs. Loretta Skinner, treasurer of the Village of Ponton Beach, was relieved of her duties by a letter from Village President Floyd David Moss Thursday, but Moss said today he does not believe she has yet accepted receipt of the certified letter.

In the letter, Moss cites state statutes on the duties of the treasurer, and a study by a consulting firm the village had hired to review municipal operations and to make recommendations.

Mrs. Skinner told the Press-Record she does not believe the review of the village's records by the David Davis Associates consulting firm was adequate.

She said that when the books are reviewed by certified public accountants, she is sure they will balance.

Mrs. Skinner stressed she has followed procedures utilized by all past village treasurers in keeping her books and in retaining control of many of the records.

The report alleges missing records, failure to legally publish an annual treasurer's report, and fund balances which do not match official village books.

Moss said he will ask for Mrs. Skinner's resignation at tomorrow night's Village Board meeting, if she does not accept receipt of the certified letter by then.

Village Trustee Duane Skinner, husband of the treasurer, was contacted by the Press-Record and commented that he has reviewed the consulting firm's report. Most of its allegations are the result of inadequate research, in his opinion.

He said most of the records that the consultants said they were unable to locate were in the possession of the treasurer, as has been past practice in the village, and that she was never asked to produce the documents.

Documents she was requested to supply were given either to Village President

Carter OKs dam, suit will delay it

Long-awaited construction of a replacement Alton lock and dam moved measurably nearer Saturday with the signing of legislation in Minneapolis by President Jimmy Carter.

But pending court opposition to the project by railroads and environmentalists may delay the start of work for two years or more, authorities say.

The mammoth $421-million-plus facilities are to be built north of the Quad Cities, two miles downstream from the present Alton Locks and Dam 26.

A 1,200-foot lock, matching the biggest lock at Granite City Locks 27, is to be built along with a new dam, enabling the aging dam then to be removed. River traffic bottlenecks have occurred with increasing frequency due to the limited size and deteriorating condition of the Alton locks. Pres. Carter signed the bill, which also establishes a system of waterway user fees to partly finance inland navigation projects, at a ceremony in Minneapolis between talks on behalf of Minnesota Democratic candidates for Congress.

Appropriation of construction funds is among the tasks remaining to be accomplished.

Those opposing the project question its need, assert that it would have a detrimental effect on the environment, and allege that it would unfairly tip the balance in favor of barge lines in competition with railroads and other transportation modes. However, the "foot in the door" for tolls on commercial river traffic is expected to ease much of the opposition by rail interests.

The lawsuit is pending in the U.S. District Court at Washington, D.C. It challenges the Army Engineer Corps' environmental impact statement regarding wildlife habitat, fish, archeological sites and migratory waterfowl.

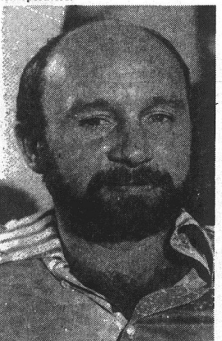

Plans allow for inclusion of a second new lock late in the 10-year construction period if studies show that it is needed then.

Hair design is now big business

Fred T. McColgan has followed the local and national trend in attitudes toward hair by changing from a barber to a barber stylist and, since 1975, to ownership of a hair design studio.

Operator of the Lion's Mane at 3717D Nameoki Road, he has found business to be so brisk that the studio presently employs ten operators.

Aside from general supervisory duties, McColgan is a licensed stylist. He comments, "I have a shop manager who supervises committees to do all necessary jobs to keep our hair design studio running smoothly. We practice the Walt Disney theory of accomplishing things through a do-done story board."

He served as YMCA swimming coach here for a team of 125 strongly competitive swimmers from 1968 to 1972. "We turned out several state champions and one national champion," he notes.

McColgan worked at Jack's Midtown Barber Shop in 1963-64. From then until 1968, he served in the U.S. Army, beginning with basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., and advanced infantry training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

He served for a year as a 362nd Combat Engineer in Vietnam, and spent the remaining four months of his Army duty at Fort Campbell, Ky. He achieved the rank of specialist-four and holds the Vietnam Tour Medal.

A 1961 graduate of Granite City High School, he graduated the following year from Belleville Barber College and completed a wide range of hair design courses, including sessions in Canada, California, Ohio and the Chicago area, and a course with Vidal Sassoon.

McColgan, who is 35 years old and married, earned third place in 1970 state barber competition, second in Central Illinois hair cutting competition that year, two second-place trophies in 1971 Southern Illinois barber and hair styling judging, the grand prize in later Southern Illinois competition, first place in Illinois state hair sculpture art and first in Iowa state

Await bridge study signing

It may have been basically a "media event"—U.S. Senator Adlai Stevenson striding to the middle of Eads Bridge and gazing down into the Mississippi River Friday afternoon. But the Illinoisan brought good news about the proposed study of metropolitan area bridges.

President Jimmy Carter is expected to sign legislation funding the study of the Poplar Street, McKinley, King, Eads and MacArthur bridges, Sen. Stevenson announced.

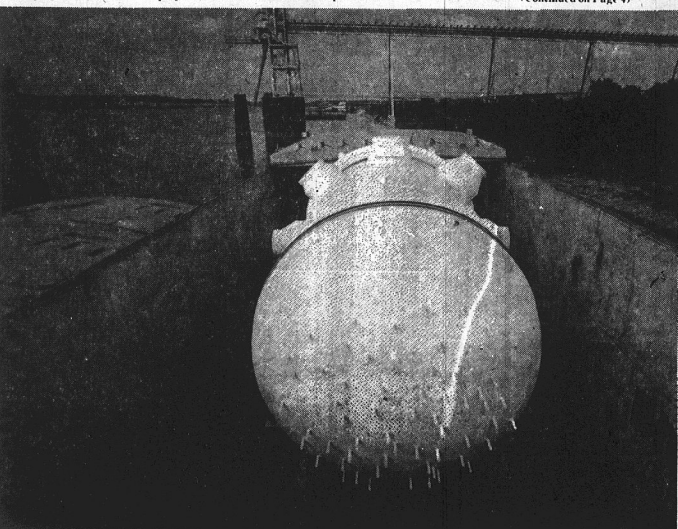

The basic problem is that the free federal bridge at Poplar Street is crowded with vehicular traffic much of the time while other river spans attract less autos and are in deteriorating condition. McKinley, owned by the City of Venice, is among those collecting tolls but finding it difficult to meet all the costs of maintenance and bond retirement.

Congressional action has been completed on the 1978 Surface Transportation Assistance Act, which includes an amendment for the bridge study.

Here to inspect the bridges, Stevenson said, "We've been in touch with the White House, and the assurance we've received is that the amended act will be signed."

Also awaiting presidential action is a Federal Highway Act amendment that would allocate federal funds for privately-owned toll bridges.

Alan Richter, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council executive director, said funds will be sought to divert traffic from the busy Poplar Bridge to the other bridges, to achieve more even distribution and less congestion.

NUCLEAR DEVICE IN GRANITE CITY. The Tri-City Port served as a two-week stopover point for this Union Electric Company nuclear reactor. The reactor, shipped by barge to the Callaway County, Mo., site was handled in the Tri-City Port by Art's Fleeting service. There was no danger to the local area, as the reactor was not fueled. The slack-water harbor at the port here was considered to be a safe mooring place for the valuable equipment, which is now at the Callaway County site. Tri-City Port's new dry bulk transfer facility is shown in the background.

GC mental health clinic to mark 18th anniversary

The Quad-City Mental Health Clinic will conduct an open house program Sunday, Oct. 29, to mark its 18th year of providing mental health services to this area, it was announced Friday.

The program will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Mental Health Clinic at 2024 State St. Recognition will be given to community members who have contributed to development of the program since its inception 18 years ago.

Mrs. Eva Meier and Louis Pashoff, board members, are co-chairmen of the event.

The program will include the unveiling of a plaque in honor of the late Mrs. Gladys Chapman, a charter member of the mental health board. The memorial will be located in the lobby of the center and the unveiling ceremony is planned at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Meier, a charter member of the board, prepared a history of the establishment of the Quad-City Center, which is as follows:

Rotarians agreed to pay for the furniture and office equipment for three rooms. Carl Graham, represented by Elmer Dehn, gave us a discount on furniture and equipment required. The 30 Minute Club of Granite City Steel (Chairman, Walter Klotzmeier) gave a gift for a Mental Health Clinic instead of giving it to the National Association for Mental Health.

Free rent, until we could afford to pay, was donated by the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank. Donations of paint were made by Kahle's, Schermer's Hardware and DeWitt Stores. Guy Cooper and Ed Lane, and six other men from the Painters' Union, donated their time to decorate the rooms.

Needing more painting to be done, Gus Hoelscher of the East Side Manufacturers Association, agreed to pay the Painters' Union to complete the decoration. Members of the Building Service Employees Union carried out the clean-up work. Miss Mary Cowan, H. D. Karandjeff and G. W. Hoelscher who were active as board members also helped collect and worked with merchants who donated money, air conditioners and other materials and articles.

While talking to groups, we found many people in Granite City at this meeting were Mrs. Gladys Chapman, Harriet Byers, Rev. Robert Baumann and Eva Meier.

In 1968 we met at Alton, organized the Madison County Mental Health society and elected officers. Rev. Reuben C. Buehler of Alton was elected president.

For every dollar donated the state of Illinois offered to match toward salary for our staff. Mrs. Chapman contacted women's clubs—Coterie, Bay View and Granite City teachers. Mrs. Buehler (Ed) Reiske, donated her services as secretary until we were able to hire a secretary. Pictures, flowers and draperies were also donated. All of these actions took place between Oct. 13, 1959 and Jan. 6, 1960.

We received a copy of a letter dated Oct. 26, 1959 stating that the Granite City Clinic probably should be delayed until we could afford to hire staff. Many delays and problems were encountered. However, we were called at about 7 a.m. on Dec. 31, 1959 to meet the executive committee at 8 o'clock at the office of the East Side Manufacturers Association. We, the Granite City board, had one week to set up the clinic.

We already had the furniture, etc., stored at Graham's Book Store; the painting was almost completed and we had everything in place by Jan. 6—four days later. Draperies and pictures were hung.

The Press-Record announced that the clinic would have open house on Jan. 6, 1960. Many of our friends came that evening after work to see "their project." Alton board members and interested people also came during the day.

Mrs. Chapman and I presented the keys to Dr. James R. Harter, psychiatrist. We began with apt-time staff and a full-time secretary who donated her services.

We hired a full-time director, Mr. S. Croux. In March we hired a full-time secretary, Mrs. Harriet Mercer.

After establishing the clinic here, we presented our cause to the United Fund and $3,500 was allocated for the clinic's operation.

The State of Illinois now realized that we were earnest and the Madison County Mental Health Society was granted $26,500 from the Illinois Department of Public Welfare for "establishment of the two clinics in the county."

Both clinics continued to function under the Madison County Mental Health Society. Problems developing in Alton were different from those in the Quad-City area. We were not able to function cooperatively. Finally, on July 1, 1965, we were able to separate from the Madison County Mental Health Society and organize our Quad-City Mental Health Center.

Henry Karandjeff was our "transition president." He was the last president to serve both Alton and the Granite City Clinic and the first president to act for the new center.

N. Brink was elected president; Ed Reiske, vice-president; Mrs. Hilda Burns, treasurer and Eva Meier, secretary. (1965-1966).

We continued to grow and in 1966 we moved to 2024 State St. In November 1966 the citizens of Madison County passed the "708 Bill." This bill provided a county tax to help the clinics financially. With the money now received from the state and county, we were able to function without the aid from the United Fund which had helped us so much previously.

We went through another adjustment period at this time. Now we are able to progress with the financial help of the 708 Bill and add many new programs required by the State of Illinois.

We thank everyone who helped in any way to make this clinic possible. We have erased the stigma associated with mental illness by prevention. Many hours of service were given gladly and taxes were paid to County and the State of Illinois with your approval.

You should feel happy and proud of your efforts. We are groing.

1,177 Quad-Cityans in Area College classes

Quad-Cityans totaling 1,177 are enrolled for Belleville Area College fall semester classes. According to tenth day enrollment figures, 11,582 students are enrolled either part- or full-time at the community college, which covers more than 2,000 square miles and services approximately 350,000 people.

The tally includes 990 from Granite City, 159 from Madison and 28 from Venice.

According to admission director Vince Margerum, the difference between the number of men vs. women students is becoming more pronounced. Only 5,118 men are enrolled this semester, compared to 6,464 women. This is a trend that seems to hold nationwide, Margerum added.

Student bodies are also getting older. At Belleville Area College, 2,865 students are under the age of 21. Those between 21 and 30 number 4,579; from 31-39, 2,022; and age 40 and over, 2,116.

Of the students past 40 years old, 510 are above the age 55 and 167 past 65.

The figures cited do not include the 1,500 older persons who are involved in BAC's Programs and Services for Older Persons — only those who are enrolled for either credit or general studies courses on the main campus and at the district's 28 extension centers.

Resurfacing and improvements of Granite City streets under a $234,981 contract approved by the City Council in its Sept. 26 meeting were scheduled to get underway this week, possibly today if the weather permits spreading sealer on the streets.

125 young people at house party, six are arrested

Officers watched about 125 young people leave a house on Briarcliff Avenue at 11:20 p.m. Friday, after police were told by nearby residents that a party going on there involved yelling, shouting and throwing bottles, beer cans and other debris into adjacent yards and the street.

On entering the dwelling, one officer said, "It was wall-to-wall people, with most of them drinking or smoking."

Everyone was ordered to leave and not return. One policeman said about 125 kids filed out of the house.

A short time later, an officer who had remained at the scene, said Miss Renee Arnett, 8 Briarcliff Ave., asked his assistance in getting some others out of the house.

Six girls still in the dwelling allegedly refused to leave and were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct.

Taken into custody were Gayla G. Grafton, 19, of 2918 Palmer Ave., May G. Arney, 17, of 705 Twenty-Sixth St., July Theis, 17, of 2147 Lev Ave., two 16-year-old girls and a 15-year-old girl.

All were released pending a hearing.

A former Peace Corps volunteer and consumer researcher for New York City, he has been active in citizen action groups concerned with consumer, environmental and political reform issues.

He is an author of manuals for organizing public interest and citizen action, and most recently co-authored "Troubled Waters: Toxic Chemicals in the Hudson River" in 1977.

Ross will also speak to government and sociology classes on the SIUE campus and to supporters of the proposed Illinois Public Interest Research Group (IPIRG) in the area.

The lecture and an 11 a.m. press conference are open to the public at no cost, according to Linda Baer, spokesman for IPIRG.

Ex-Nader raider' to talk

Donald K. Ross, consumer advocate and former attorney with the Ralph Nader organization, will speak at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Wednesday. His appearance is sponsored by the National Town Meeting.

Ross, director of the New York Public Interest Research Group, a non-partisan research and advocacy organization, will discuss his concerns at an 8 p.m. lecture in Meridian Ballroom.

A former Peace Corps volunteer and consumer researcher for New York City, he has been active in citizen action groups concerned with consumer, environmental and political reform issues.

He is an author of manuals for organizing public interest and citizen action, and most recently co-authored "Troubled Waters: Toxic Chemicals in the Hudson River" in 1977.

Ross will also speak to government and sociology classes on the SIUE campus and to supporters of the proposed Illinois Public Interest Research Group (IPIRG) in the area.

The lecture and an 11 a.m. press conference are open to the public at no cost, according to Linda Baer, spokesman for IPIRG.

Undercover man buys stolen car

The St. Louis Police Department notified Venice police at 7:15 p.m. Saturday, they had recovered a 1979 red Dodge sedan, reported stolen Sept. 20 from the Auto Terminal on South 4th St., Venice.

The vehicle was recovered when a 29-year-old St. Louis man sold the auto to an undercover agent in St. Louis. The man was taken into custody at that time, a St. Louis detective said.

On the advice of Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Steve Mudge, Venice police asked St. Louis officers to book the man for Venice as a fugitive and will pick up the suspect from St. Louis today.

Teacher of year chosen

"It's the greatest field to go into — teaching," Joseph Corsello, an art and ceramics teacher at Morris Community High School in Morris and the 1979 Illinois Teacher of the Year, believes there is no other profession like teaching for those who love children. The 46-year-old teacher was honored at the fifth annual "Those Who Excel" awards banquet Friday night at the Holiday Inn East in Springfield. The awards banquet, sponsored by the State Board of Education, honors individuals for their contributions to Illinois' public and nonpublic, kindergarten-to-12th-grade educational system. The Illinois teacher of the year is selected from the teacher category of "Those Who Excel."

Corsello, who has taught art and ceramics for 19 years, started his teaching career at Morris High School. He teaches students in grades 9-12. Robert Clota, principal at Morris High School, says the art program at Morris is one of the most popular subjects among the students. The entire art curriculum at the high school is elective. Corsello believes that art is an important facet of a child's education. "They use art every day. Every person uses art. When you get up in the morning and select your clothes, you are very conscious of color schemes. When you buy a car, you buy it by design and color. This is all art." He adds that art can aid in helping students to become better and more informed consumers.

SYMPHONY AND CHAMBER ORCHESTRAS TO PERFORM Robert Schieder will conduct the University Symphony Orchestra and the University Chamber Orchestra in a concert in the SIUE Communications Building theater Friday, Oct. 27, at 8:15 p.m. The concert will feature Sarah Turner, soprano soloist. The Chamber Orchestra will perform Gustav Holst's "St. Paul's Suite," Ernst Krenek's "Sieben leichte Stücke" and the Mozart motet, "Exsultate, Jubilate." Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite No. 2, Opus 58" and two episodes from Aaron Copland's "Rodeo" will be performed by the University Symphony Orchestra.

Bowling, other recreational activities will be emphasized

Programming deserves the main emphasis in recreation at the University Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Foster Schieder, new director of recreation at the center, believes. He has plans for league and club activities in the areas of football, table tennis, billiards and bowling. Participation on a weekly basis in both intramural and intercollegiate activities will also be offered to SIUE students. The 25-year-old Chicago native is looking forward to what he terms "a rewarding experience" and is "happy with the response from both students and fellow administrators." Schieder feels that "the challenge will be to keep people around campus to participate in activities," but adds, "turnout in terms of sign-ups for activities has been phenomenal." Schieder has been credited with building the largest collegiate bowling program in the nation during his tenure as assistant manager and later as manager of the recreation center at Illinois State University at Normal. According to the American Bowling Congress, the ISU program had the most participants in the nation. Schieder served as coach for both the men's and women's bowling teams at ISU and was fiscal officer of the bowling club. He believes the University Center here is used much more actively than the ISU Student Union. "The campus is warmer and the people here respect what they have" in terms of the facilities available to them, he said. Schieder added, "The equipment is in as good as or better shape than any I've seen, particularly considering that it is 12 years old. Commenting on the SIUE campus, he said he is impressed with its vastness and beauty and its "well-organized and very clean and neat" appearance. Schieder became interested in recreation when he went to work for the Brunswick Corporation while attending high school. He later realized he did not prefer the commercial recreation business, and felt fortunate when he "fell into the opportunity of being an assistant manager in the Recreation Center of the ISU Student Union."

He worked as assistant manager for five years under Roger Dalkin. Schieder considers Dalkin "the best recreation director in the nation," adding, "that's where I gained most of my experience." Dalkin left in November 1977, and Schieder was promoted to the position of manager. He is an undergraduate student in business administration and has worked full-time while taking classes part-time at ISU. He hopes to complete his degree at SIUE next year. "I want to inject my own personality into the programs I develop," said Schieder as he explained his reasons for joining the SIUE University Center staff. "I think it's a marvelous place."

A two-year project by students of the Vocational Building Trades program in the two Granite City High Schools — a new home on lot 15 of Hamilton Drive — will be completed soon. Students, with their instructors, are at work on finishing touches such as plumbing, heating and wiring.

Jerry Ethridge, vocational drafting instructor, supervises the students who lay out designs of the house and make all design changes. Emil Kinia, sheet metal instructor, supervises students who design all heating and air-conditioning ducts and layouts and all of the metal fabrications for the house.

Castile is charged in shooting

Animal protection events scheduled;
tips on doghouses

Billy Joe Castile, 25, of Granite City, sought on warrants in connection with an Aug. 10 shootout at Stieb's Tavern, 2422 Namecki Road, was arrested at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the 2200 block of Iowa Street.

Castile is charged with armed violence, reckless conduct and unlawful use of a weapon.

A mittimus was issued and he was taken at 2:05 a.m. Friday by sheriff's deputies to Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

The charges stem from an incident in Stieb's Tavern in which two men allegedly exchanged gunfire the night of Aug. 10.

The second man allegedly involved, Billy Wayne Johnson, 25, of 1303 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested Aug. 21, upon being released from the hospital, on warrants charging armed violence, unlawful use of a weapon and reckless conduct.

Johnson was shot in the right thigh and underwent surgery. Castile, allegedly the second man involved, ran from the tavern after the shots were fired.

At the mid-October meeting of the Association for the Protection of Animals, held at the Sanitary Board office in Granite City, future fund-raising events were discussed.

A "toll road" is to be held Saturday, Oct. 26, in Madison. A white elephant sale will be held at the VFW Hall, 21st Street and Washington Avenue, on Saturday, Nov. 11. Those having articles — not clothing — to donate are contacting the APA at 877-4894.

Secretary Marge Pemberton commented, "Now is the time for outside dog owners to check on the condition of their pet's housing, as the APA has already received complaints on this."

"All dogs — cats and rabbits, also — must be provided with a dry, leakproof house, raised off the ground sufficiently to prevent water or melting snow from running into the house."

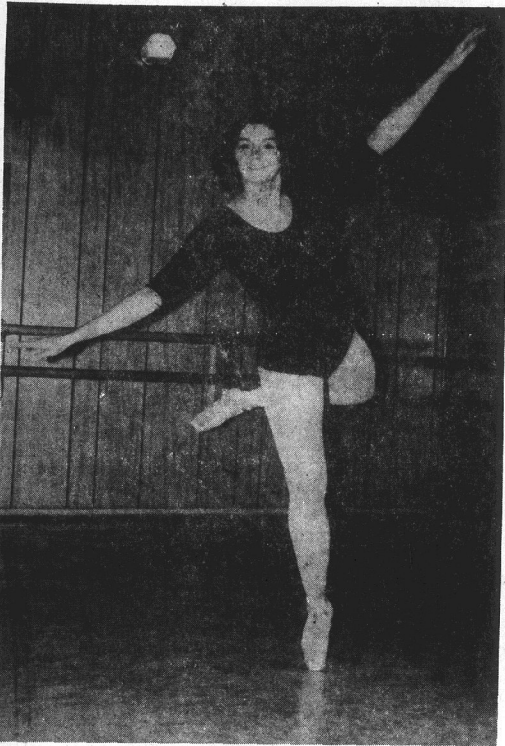

"Hay or straw make a warm, dry bedding. And a canvas flap on front of the door will keep out the severe, cold wind and snow."

"Special attention should be given to see that animals are provided daily fresh water, as water freezes quickly when the temperature is at freezing."

Next meeting of the APA will be tomorrow.

Percy says new law makes bureaucrats more accountable

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) believes that the Civil Service Reform act of 1978 makes it easier to discipline or fire incompetent federal employees who do not serve the taxpayers. "Merit firing will now be just as important as merit hiring in the Civil Service System," Percy said.

Commenting after President

Carter signed the civil service reform measure, Percy said the new legislation sets sensible standards for judging the work of federal employees.

"This legislation sends a clear message to federal employees," Sen. Percy said. "Performance, not politics or seniority, will be the yardstick for pay increases and promotions."

As the ranking member of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, Percy was active in shaping the Civil Service Reform Act and was the Republican floor manager in the Senate and a conferee. The Act, first proposed by Pres. Carter in March, is the first major reform of the 100-year-old system.

"Taxpayers deserve a dollar's worth of government service for every dollar paid in taxes," Percy said. "This long-overdue reform speaks directly to the public's outrage with bureaucrats who too frequently act like the masters, rather than the servants of the people who pay their salaries."

In addition to making it easier to discipline and fire incompetent federal employees, the Civil Service Reform Act will:

1. Divide the Civil Service Commission into two parts: the Office of Personnel Management to streamline job management, and the Merit Systems Protection Board to safeguard employees' rights.

2. Establish a Senior Executive Service of senior-level employees, with authority to assign workers and provide pay increase incentives and cash bonuses for good job performance.

During consideration of the Civil Service Reform Act, the Governmental Affairs Committee heard testimony from 86 individuals representing 55 organizations. In addition, Percy conducted hearings on the legislation in Springfield, Rock Island, East St. Louis and Chicago.

Two aspects of advocacy will be covered — individual programming as conducted by the Little Red Schoolhouse and the Boaden Adult Center, both facilities in Springfield. Included on the advocacy team conducting the workshops will be an attorney representing the Developmentally Disabled Law Project in Region 4, which includes Madison County.

Parents and other interested individuals may attend both workshops.

Evening of dance Sunday

An evening of dance is scheduled for Sunday, October 29, at 3 p.m. at Collinsville's Webster School auditorium with "something to suit everyone's taste." Participants will include Karen Stawar of Granite City.

The program, called Impressions In Dance, is being given by the Ballet Arts Studio, under the direction of Irene Gintautas, who is also the Artistic director for Southern Illinois' Community Civic Ballet Company.

The first part of the program will be performed by the youngest dancers, in "Carnival of the Animals." They will portray bears, a kangaroo, fish, birds and others. These dancers range in age from five to 12 years.

Following will be several short pieces performed by advanced students, some of whom are members of the Community Civic Ballet Company.

A Spanish dance, complete with fans, and a humorous pantomime-dance called "In the Hall of the Armorer" will be among the selections.

"In the Hall of the Armorer" is the rock group Electric Light Orchestra's adaptation of Grieg's classic, "In the Hall of the Mountain King." The piece has been originally choreographed by the dancers, who use several stage props and unusual costumes with Viking horns.

On an Oriental note, the advanced students will demonstrate a colorful "Persian Dance."

The same group will later perform the dramatic "Mephisto Waltz" (Devil's waltz), which is Irene Gintautas' original choreography portraying the struggle between good and evil.

Trudi Soriano, of Collinsville, will do a solo to Dan Fogelberg's "Dancing Shoes," the dance which won her first prize in Collinsville High School's recent talent competition.

Nearly 100 costumes are used in the program, which is free to the public.

Soviet grain may exceed goal

High yields are expected from the current Soviet grain harvest. But the impact on Soviet imports from the U.S. remains a question, according to Illinois Farm Bureau President Harold B. Steele.

Steele and three other state Farm Bureau presidents, led by Michigan Farm Bureau President Elton Smith, toured parts of the Soviet Union. The two-week trade and study mission ended Oct. 18.

"Indications are that the goal of 220 million metric tons of grain harvested in the Soviet Union this year will be met," Steele said Friday. "The possibility exists that this may reach 230 million metric tons. One metric ton equals 2,204 pounds of grain."

"Just how much the Soviets import from the U.S. during the third year of the five-year grain trade agreement between the two nations depends on the Soviets' need for a reserve and their capability to handle it," Steele feels.

"The reserve would be needed to offset poor production years, which are expected during three of 10 years because of adverse weather."

He said the delegation did not get a full grasp of the Soviet capability of handling a reserve, although the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that storage is available in the Soviet Union for 240 to 250 million metric tons of grain.

Steele said Soviet leaders may see that the U.S. product is abundant and is a good buy, and then will find some way to store it.

Others on the trip were Farm Bureau Presidents Marion Stackhouse, Indiana; and John Armstrong, Kansas, plus an American Farm Bureau representative and representatives of the grain industry.

While in the Soviet Union, the group toured parts of the 100 million acres placed into production in the 1950s in southern Siberia. This land, never before used for production, is in an area that has a 90-day frost-free period with about 12 to 14 inches of rain each year. The Soviets are constructing an irrigation system to help offset the lack of rainfall in much of this area.

With the news today pessimists point to the impression that there's a worldwide shortage of everything. There's an energy crisis and a food crisis and any number of other crises, all caused, we are told, by vanishing resources. At the bank, we aren't pessimistic. We still have faith in American ingenuity. And aside from that, some resources involve an excess instead of a shortage. One such resource is information! About 75% of all information available has been developed within the last two decades, and that total is doubling every 10 years. The problem is one of management. With shortages, it's a question of making proper use of too little. With information, it's a question of making proper use of too much.

Financial information is a part of this explosion. Our business at the bank is to keep up... keeping you informed. If you need help in banking decisions, see any of our officers. When they advise you... you can BANK on it!

School Board OKs purchases, hiring

The Granite City Board of Education met last week, but just barely.

The board was scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m., but until 7:38 p.m., only three of the seven board members were in attendance.

President Donald Stucke and members Norman Hall and Steven Salitch waited patiently, agreeing that they would adjourn at 8 p.m. for lack of a quorum.

With two minutes left, Board Member L. Monroe Worthen arrived and a quorum was declared. Absent were Thomas Hufsky, Dewey Melton and George Moore Sr. The board has not failed to achieve a quorum for a meeting in nearly six years, administrators said.

The board agreed to hire Shirley Jean Paynick, 49, East Alton, to teach home economics at Granite City High School North. David Costello, 2212 Elm St., was selected as a custodian.

The resignation of Monte Kessler, computer programmer for the district, was rescinded by the board's action. Kessler resigned two weeks earlier and the resignation was accepted by the board, but in later discussions, he agreed to ask the board to reconsider the resignation.

The board agreed to his return to the district at $21,000 per year salary, retroactive to July 1, as a certificated employee. The State Certification Board granted him a provisional certificate in vocational education last week.

In other business, bids totaling $3,608 from three vendors were approved to supply lumber and miscellaneous materials for the building trades house, now under construction. Contracts were awarded to Duffin Brothers for $1,889, Great Central Lumber for $608 and Illinois Lumber for $1,810.

The Demco supply firm was selected to supply about 200 titles of magazines and periodicals for the district's libraries, at a total cost for the year of $6,047. The firm submitted the lowest of four bids received.

An easement was granted to Illinois Power Co. between the school district's buildings at 20th and Adams streets and the railroad tracks to reroute electrical supply lines in conjunction with the upcoming construction of an overpass over 19th Street.

The easement will consist of a 10-foot wide strip on the northwest side of the district's property and all easement documents have been approved by William Schooley, the school district's attorney.

Permission was granted to the Granite City Elks to host the annual Hoop Shoot Free Yards Contest Dec. 16 at Grigsby Junior High School. Competition will be for all elementary and junior high school students in the school district.

A total of 118 parents and four senior citizens were approved to serve as authorized volunteers at various schools. The volunteers received the endorsement of Merna M. Musterman, coordinator of the Gifted Program.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of the Granite City Schools, commended each for sacrificing time to aid education and gave particular praise for the four senior citizens in the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) who will be authorized volunteers.

They are Myra Grote, 1633

Venice Ave., Etta Hurst, 2617 Madison Ave., Annette Scott, 2432 Grand Ave., and Harry Thurai, 2516 Center St.

A mutual agreement between the school district and the Granite City Park District received the approval of the Board of Education Tuesday night.

The agreement allows the school district to use various park facilities, such as grounds, the skating rink and baseball diamonds, for physical education and athletic activities, paying only actual expenses incurred for the use.

In return, the park district is authorized to use school facilities, when needed, paying only the costs incurred.

Permission was given to the Granite City High School South Boosters of the Fighting Warriors to place shrubs and greenery at the entrance to the Memorial Gymnasium. Board members thanked the Boosters for the gift of the shrubbery.

Davis noted that student attendance in the school district has averaged 96.29 percent during the past month, which he termed "rather good." He noted that last year attendance averaged over 90 percent for the entire year, which he termed, "excellent, considering the bad winter."

Thomas C. Holloway, director of vocational and career education, was granted permission to file the district's one and five-year vocational plans with the Illinois Department of Vocational Education.

Holloway noted that he feels the detailed plan "reflects the best interests of our students."

Approval also was given for beginning a pilot program in math in January at Granite City High School North which is designed "to get students into the best working levels as quickly as possible."

General Math II, which is basically a review course, will be eliminated and students will be assigned, by ability to algebra, intermediate math or remedial math courses.

Currently, in Math II, all students are advanced at the same speed, which Chappell indicated allows some students to "sluff off."

He said the pilot program will "give the high school math teacher the responsibility of putting each student at his top level as quickly as possible."

GCIS North Principal, Gilbert Walmsley said he feels the program will "start

PAINTING IS ADDED TO BAC'S ART COLLECTION

A painting by a prominent Japanese artist, Gen-Yu Masaki Fujimoto, will be added to the Belleville Area College permanent art collection, according to faculty member Dale Threlkeld, who is on sabbatical in New York.

The painting was sponsored by the artist, who is from Hasaka, Japan, and the Japanese government. It was awarded to BAC through the Azuma Gallery in New York.

Wide academic authority for new resource center

The unit which had been designated as the Supplemental Instruction Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was renamed the Academic Resource Center, in action here last week by the SIU Board of Trustees.

University officials said the change of unit name reflects an expansion of services to a wider university population. The board also ratified the appointment of Miriam C. Dusenbery, SIP acting director, to the new position of director of the Academic Resource Center.

Earl Lazerson, vice-president and provost at SIUE, said the center has been established "to redress educational deficiencies which exist among so many of our students at entry, and to establish clearly-defined expectations regarding needed skills and competencies."

specifically in the basic skills of reading, writing, calculating and speaking."

The director will plan, organize, implement and direct a university-wide basic skills program which will offer corrective tutorial instruction. Initial emphasis will be placed on the skill development of incoming freshmen and transfer students. Future development will include services to students at all levels.

The vice-president and provost added that the program will include academic advisement, counseling, and comprehensive tutoring, in addition to possible required credit or non-credit course offerings for selected students. Lazerson said all components of the Supplemental Instruction Program will continue to operate in the Resource Center.

In addition to the continuation of remediation courses, the center will make such courses mandatory for students who, through assessment, are found to need assistance with a specific basic skill competence. Coordination of all university remediation efforts will be a focus of the center.

READING SKILLS FALL BANQUET ON THURSDAY

Elaine Bruner, educational specialist at the University of Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the fall banquet of the Lewis and Clark Reading Council. The meeting of the local council of the International Reading Association will be held at the Round Table Restaurant, Highway 157, Collinsville, Thursday at 6 p.m.

A veteran of 15 years of experience in the field of reading, she is presently involved in writing educational materials for upper level elementary and senior high students. Her presentation at the reading council banquet will concern new directions in improving reading skills.

Two campus sites annexed

The portions of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville property now within the city limits of Edwardsville were officially designated last week by the SIU Board of Trustees through an amendment to the board's Code of Policy.

The board granted consent at its meeting June 8 for two portions of the SIUE campus to be annexed to the City of Edwardsville. On Aug. 15, the Edwardsville City Council took final action to effect the annexation.

Trustees' latest action brings II Code of Policy D-2 up-to-date with descriptions of the two parcels of property.

Both parcels are on the south side of the campus. Parcel A includes a strip 500 to 600 feet wide along the southern border of the campus, lying north of the Madison County nature trail. At the west end of this parcel, the annexation includes the area between the old bed of Cahokia Creek and Sand Road, an area 1,400 feet wide and 2,600 feet long.

Parcel B includes all the university property south of the Madison County nature trail in the vicinity of the Supporting Services Building and the radio transmission tower.

With the exception of the areas described, all of the main campus of SIUE is outside any city limits.

Book tells of two who are never alone

ATTACHMENTS By Judith Rossner (Pocket Books) Reviewed by Betty Richardson SIUE Department of English

"From the time of its initial hardback publication, reviewers have had difficulty with 'Attachments,' now issued in paperback."

It is not that this is a bad novel; on the contrary, it is a quite good one of its kind. But what, exactly, is its kind?

How does one sort out what the novel is about, without oversimplifying the theme?

Certainly, it is an oversimplification to describe this book as a study of the loneliness and childish desire for companionship that sends people spinning off into the most bizarre of marriages, affairs and domestic arrangements.

It is also an oversimplification to say that this is a book about the maturing of an adolescent girl, as flakey if less suicidal than the heroine of "Looking for Mr. Goodbar."

Unlike the heroine of that earlier novel, this heroine survives and matures.

Her maturity consists of the recognition that humans must live as well as die alone — and that privacy, even loneliness, is the prize of age and maturity, not an evil to be fled at all costs.

What complicates this is the metaphor Rossner chooses as a way of showing the horrors of togetherness.

The heroine, desperate for security, is fascinated by a perpetual, unavoidable togetherness of male Siamese twins. She marries one, convincing a close friend to marry the other.

Lonely women both, they are intrigued by the men who are never alone; what they discover only painfully after marriage is that togetherness can bring its own kind of corruption — moral, not sexual.

The mutual dependence, the callousness toward the outside world, the intuitive understanding of each other's needs — these can play havoc with the capacity for love, for sensitivity, and for understanding.

The Siamese twins, of course, provide Rossner with a certain amount of erotic description of a zanier sort. And a reader of Rossner books expects that.

But the twins primarily are a vehicle for describing the corruption of the self by the ever-present other.

Leaves falling? Don't panic

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT Area Horticulture Adviser

Tree leaves don't have to be a crisis when they fall on your lawn. How about grinding them up with your lawnmower to produce a thin layer of compost on your lawn?

Fall fertilizing of your turf on an occasional rain will quickly convert this leaf residue to organic matter for earthworms to digest.

Amaryllis bulbs should flower every year if they have the proper summertime care. After amaryllis bulbs flower in the spring, the plants should be maintained in full sun or a bright location during the rest of the summer. If you normally move some of your plants outdoors, amaryllis should be included.

Now is the time to let your amaryllis go dormant for the winter. If it's indoors, stop watering.

If it's outdoors, move it indoors and gradually withhold water. When the leaves turn yellow, cut them off and store the potted bulb in a cool location.

In January, move the potted bulb into a bright location and begin watering. If your amaryllis is going to bloom, it will develop a flower stalk within a month.

If you buy an amaryllis bulb this fall or during the winter, pot the bulb in regular potting soil with 2-3 of the bulb above the soil. Place the new bulb in full sun or a very bright location and keep the soil moist.

Tax ceiling vote pleases governor

Governor James R. Thompson declared it a "victory for the people of Illinois" following Circuit Judge Simon L. Friedman's ruling last week that the "Thompson proposition" will be on the Nov. 7 ballot.

Gov. Thompson said, "This isn't a victory for Jim. Thompson or even for his campaign. It's a victory for the people of Illinois, who now will have the right to vote this fall on whether they want a ceiling on spending and a ceiling on taxes."

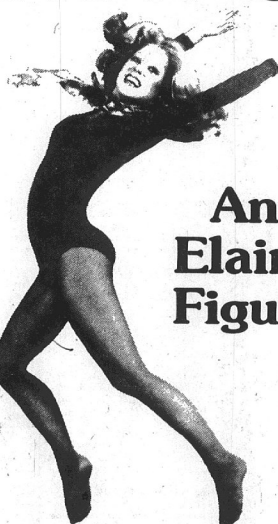

"I fought hard to give the people of Illinois this right to vote. People have fought against it, including my opponent, Michael Bakalis."

"Now, the judges rule that the people have a right to vote this fall, that the petition campaign went properly, that we're properly on the ballot, that the Elections Board — four Democrats and four Republicans — did their duty."

"I'm just happy the people are getting a chance to vote this fall."

How about this one? South 2, Alton 0

By DOUG IRVIN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The safety. The smallest score possible in football (except the extra point). Two points.

Picture this: It's fourth down and a whole bunch. Your team's on its own one-yard line (courtesy an excellent punt by the opposition). Your center has to snap the ball to the punter standing at the back of the end zone.

Pressure.
"That's a center's nightmare," said Granite City South center Mike Kozan. The "that" refers to the bad hike by Alton center Mark Macias which resulted in awarding Granite South with two vital points here Friday night.

The Warriors of South held the Redbirds on the Alton three and four yard lines. On fourth down, quarterback-punter, Ron Raglin went back to punt. His hind foot was on the back line of the end zone. The snap was too high, went out of the end zone, and South had won, 2-0.

"These kids are good. They play a tough-hard hitting defense," commented Alton's head coach Wayne Williams. South's 4-3 defense held Williams' Redbirds to a grand total of 89 yards. Two-back Floyd Raglin rushed for 80 of those yards.

Williams formerly coached the Warriors — from 1967 until 1973, when Stan Wojcik took over. "It's really hard to sell

'Hogan's a hero ...'

how much these kids (the Warriors) have improved or in what areas they are tough since I left them," said coach Williams. "Tonight they played super-tough defense."

Raglin didn't get the 139 yards he needed to hit the 1,000 yard mark this season ... in fact the Warriors shut him down to way below his average. However, "Flyin' Floyd" did manage 100 yards total offense on the night, when he returned one punt for 19 yards.

Raglin, the two-back, was the Redbird that Wojcik wanted to keep from returning punts or kickoffs. "He's an excellent player. We tried to get to him before he had time to open up — we did," said Wojcik.

Wojcik continued, "Our defense was really up for this game. Rich Dimock has come around quite well — he's done a fine job for us. The entire copping-out outfit did great."

The game was a tough contest for both the Warriors and the Redbirds. Alton had the chance to try something when they recovered a Warrior fumble on their own 42 yard line.

THREE OFFICIALS' flags were thrown on the drive. The first was an illegal motion call against the Redbirds — which was declined. The second hurt South. It was a personal foul for roughing the punter. As a result, Alton was given possession of the ball just 29 yards away from six points. The last was another motion penalty against Alton; it set back the Redbirds five yards.

Raglin took a handoff on the South nine yard line and fumbled. The Warriors' Scott Polson was wide awake and fell on top of it for South.

Alton again threatened in the first quarter; they marched the ball down to the 31 yard line. And on fourth down, the junior quarterback, Raglin, tried to pass — incomplete — Warriors' ball.

South brought the ball to within 27 yards, but was forced to punt early in the second quarter. And at halftime, when the Dixie Dells and the Granite South band performed, the score was a tough 0-0.

MIDWAY THROUGH the third, South threatened from Alton's 27, but failed to convert on fourth down. Again, on the Warriors' next possession, they brought the ball inside the 30, but failed on fourth down, and so ended the third stanza.

Late in the last quarter, the Warriors fought their way to the Alton 32 yard line. Hogan, on fourth down, was able to angle his punt toward the sidelines. The officials marked the ball on the Alton 20.

"Hogan has been saving us with those punts," said Wojcik. "We wanted to kick that out at about the 10 — we knew we could hold 'em. I never dreamed it would be so close to the goal line," said the happy coach.

HOGAN'S PUNT and South's defense won the game for the Warriors. Alton crawled as far as the four yard line before having to punt. Raglin, standing deep in his own end zone, called the signals for a punt. The snap was over his head and South went on the board with two points for a safety with 3:09 remaining on the master clock.

Williams' Redbirds used all three of Alton's timeouts to try to regain possession of the all important pigskin as they were forced to kick off to South from their own twenty.

With five seconds on the clock and the clock stopped, quarterback Jeff Parker used South's last timeout to confer with his coach.

IT WAS FOURTH down and a long line to go. Parker took the snap, ran around in the backfield until the clock showed 00:00 then went down to preserve the ball and the win.

"Parker had an excellent game," said coach Wojcik. "The whole team played well, especially the defense. Our D got a little cocky near the end and declined several penalties against Alton — they were sure that they could hold them."

About the bad snap from center which gave the team the win, Wojcik said: "I did the same thing for Madison High when I was in high school. I snapped one through the goal posts and we lost to Granite City 15-13, so I know how he (Macias) feels."

"We got the hell knocked out of us. In the second half, we didn't have any type of field position at all," said Williams as he boarded the bus to go back to Alton High School.

Williams was gracious about losing to Wojcik, a good buddy from his days as coach at GCHS South. "I couldn't have been beaten by a man I respect more than Stan Wojcik, because I love him like a brother, bless his heart," he said.

The defense of the Warriors held Alton to a mere 20 yards on 12 offensive plays in the second half. The Redbirds never crossed their own 40 yard line with the ball.

Althoff clubs Steelers, 13-3

By PETE HAYES

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Tom Wyrostek let a grin cross his face — a forced grin at that. He tried to speak with reporters after his team's 13-3 loss to Belleville Althoff here Saturday night.

Wyrostek spoke, but nothing new was said. It was the same old story ... a young Granite City North football team trying as hard as it could, but simply not having the experience to bring that long-sought first victory to the squad.

The result was a North's seventh straight defeat this season, with just two games remaining on the schedule, Granite City South next Friday and West Frankfort the following week.

"I CAN'T change my tune now," said Wyrostek. "I've been telling the guys on the team that if they stick with it and work hard, they'll see their work pay off."

"It might not be this year, but it'll pay off."

Yardstick

First downs	10	7
Yards rushing	60	162
Yards passing	30	57
Total yards	90	219
Passes (att./comp.)	15/3	12/5
Fumbles lost	0	2
Penalties	2	0
Penalty yards	10	88

What Wyrostek was referring to — in a roundabout sort of way — is the fact that most of his starters are underclassmen, sophomores and juniors.

ASKED what he felt the main problem was on the Steeler offense Wyrostek laughed, "Did you ever stop to see how many underclassmen are in our backfield?"

"That's the main problem," But Wyrostek was quick to emphasize that he's not deeming his underclassmen for the club's seven straight defeats.

"They can't help it if they're young," he laughed. "Experience comes with age ... they'll get better."

Saturday night, North definitely had its chances to make a game of it. In fact, Althoff wasn't at exactly at the top of its game.

IN FACT, in the first quarter, the Steelers appeared to have control of the game. A recovery of a Crusader fumble on the North 32-yard line gave North excellent field position with 3:23 remaining in the period.

After picking up one first down, the Steelers were forced to try a field goal from the Althoff 32-yard line.

ROBBIE CHAPMAN's kick was right through the upright and North claimed first blood, with 1:27 remaining in the first quarter.

After getting the ensuing kickoff, Althoff's Crusaders seemed to be stopped twice on third down-and-long situations, but twice they converted on them and kept the drive alive.

That drive seemed to be finally stopped at the Althoff 34-yard line. On a second-down and 11, Althoff's Dave Bone was sacked for a loss by the North defense. But on the next play, he got a little revenge.

On an off-tackle play, Bone hit the hole off right tackle, veered to his left, and headed upfield untouched. He went 66 yards for the touchdown. The point-after kick was good. Bye-bye lead.

"THAT RUN really took a lot out of us," said Wyrostek. "We've been playing pretty well up to that point."

A six-yard jump by Bone at the 3:40 mark made the score 13-3. The PAT was no good.

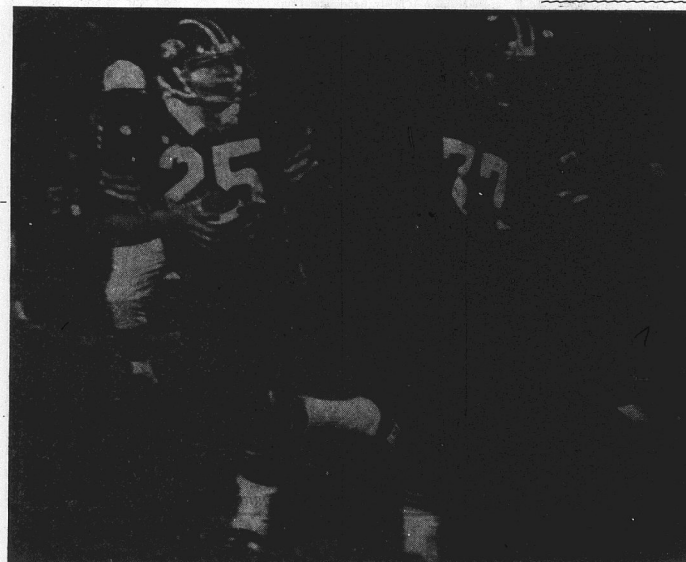

From that point on, the Steeler offense sputtered and coughed. The only two plusses on the North side of the ledger came as a result of somewhat unusual plays.

On a third down and 17-yards to go situation on his own 22,

Cougars come back for thrilling overtime victory over Quincy

EDWARDSVILLE — It was one of those games about which it is said that it's a shame one team has to lose. The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team defeated Quincy College, 3-2, in double overtime Saturday afternoon before 6,123 screaming, emotionally wrung out fans at Cougar Field. It was SUE's annual homecoming.

At 10:40 (or six minutes remaining in the second 10-minute overtime, the Cougars great sophomore star striker, Don Ebert, took a pass from little Jeff Cacciatore and showed it gently past the Hawks' brilliant keeper, Eric Delahar. He now has 18 points (12 goals and six assists).

It was the first time in the entire game that SUE had been in front. Quincy jumped out in front on a blazing kick by inside left winger Mike Gallo on an assist from Pat Howley shortly after the second half got under way (46:53). The fans had against Belleville Althoff. Greco's pass was intercepted in the end zone, but North got a reprieve. Althoff was offside on the play. Althoff won the game, 13-3.

Collins new baseball coach

By AL BARNES for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Garrett Ray Collins, "Bo" to his many friends and fans in southwestern Illinois, has been named head baseball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. It was announced today by Eldon Bigham.

Bigham is acting athletic director and chairman of the SIUE Intercollegiate Athletic Committee.

Said Bigham: "We are happy that Gary was available and has taken over our head baseball coaching assignment. He's the first graduate and former star athlete to return to SIUE to coach a major sport."

The members of the baseball squad have been working out the past two weeks under the guidance of former SIUE star, Dennis (Herbie) Werth, now a top (triple A) pro player in the Yankee farm system. Said Collins: "I hope to see the fellows play in an intra-squad game soon."

Collins, who starred in baseball and basketball in his undergraduate days at SIUE, graduated in 1970 with a B.A. in physical education and business education. In 1973, while serving as a graduate assistant coach for the SIUE baseball team, he completed his master's in education.

He was named the Cougars' Most Outstanding Athlete in 1969 and the Most Valuable Player the same year in baseball.

After finishing his undergraduate studies in '70, Collins worked a year in '71, '72 and '73 at the SIUE baseball coach.

Cardinals and advanced to the Red Birds' double A club at Little Rock, the Arkansas Cardinals. He also played a short time in the Washington Senators farm system.

RICK BENBEN, assistant SIUE soccer coach, will also serve as Collins' assistant, Bigham said.

Collins is in his first year as a guidance counselor at the Red Bud, Ill. Community High School. The previous two years, he served as assistant baseball coach (under Arnold Copeland) at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey.

Collins, who played football, basketball and baseball for four years at Roxana High School, graduating in 1967, said: "I hope to compete in my senior year in the state. We have outstanding pitching, a few good catchers, and a few good pitchers."

developed is some of the best in the nation."

HE ADDED: "I hope to get out and visit all the area prep baseball coaches, and I plan to invite as many high school players to attend our games as wish to do so."

The young (he'll turn 31 Nov. 8) coach is still active in sports and is regularly voted a member of the Southwestern Illinois Intercity Baseball League All-Star team. He is a hard-hitting first baseman on the East Alton Vans Club.

He played first-base for the Cougars under SIUE's former coach, Roy Lee, who resigned recently for personal reasons. Harry Gallatin was Collins' basketball coach at SIUE. Dyed-in-the-wool Cougar basketball fans will always have a fond place in their hearts and memories for Collins: it was his basket in the last split-second which gave SIUE its first victory, ever, over a very strong McKendree College on the Bearens' court in 1969.

Collins is married to the former Judy Uhles and has one child, a boy. They live in Columbia, Ill.

Steelers beat Quincy; South downs St. Paul

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — "This was the first real good ball game we have played since the South game," commented soccer coach, Bob Kehoe. Saturday at SIUE, Kehoe's Granite City North squad battled and defeated the Blue Devils of Quincy Senior High, 1-0 Friday, however, North lost 3-1, to Hazelwood East.

Granite North 1, Quincy Senior 0.

"They (North) took it to us a little more than we expected," said the Devil's coach, Roger Francour, after being beaten by the Steelers. "It was a good, tough game."

Just last week, Francour's Blue Devils beat their arch rivals, Quincy Notre Dame. A team that beat North twice, 3-0 and 3-2, earlier in the season. North took the first of only 21 shots that were taken on goal. Bob "Moose" Batey, eleven minutes into the game, took a center pass from teammates, Glenn Edwards, drove in and shot. Steve Nothold, Quincy's keeper, dove for the save and successfully tapped it over the top of the goal.

Several shots by both teams ended the first of two 40 minute halves.

In the second half, North junior Mike Robertson took several good shots, but unfortunately for the Steelers, they were harmlessly knocked away. It wasn't until only seven minutes remained when the first goal was made.

Robertson clipped a pass across to Edwards who headed the ball directly into the net, not giving Nothold a chance of stopping it and North went on top 1-0.

Seven minutes later, Kehoe jumped for joy as the Steelers won and played a tough game. "It was a very good game," thought," said coach Kehoe. "We're still a young team — only two seniors," continued Kehoe.

"In Friday's game at Hazelwood we made three major mistakes which resulted in three goals for them," confessed coach Kehoe. "But from here on out," Kehoe concludes, "we are going to give it everything we've got."

South 1, Waterloo Gibraltar 1 (OT).

South had trouble in only one aspect of this game... scoring. The Warriors completely dominated play, outshooting Gibraltar 40-8, and having 11 corner kicks to Gibraltar's 0.

But the story of the game was good goal-tending by Gibraltar goalie Tim Haberl, who made 25 saves.

Gibraltar jumped out in front with a goal at 21:27, but South came back to tie it at 38:50 on a goal by Jack Burnett with an assist from David Fernandez.

Earlier this season, South beat Gibraltar 8-0.

South had little trouble disposing of St. Paul. The Warriors got goals from six different players and seemed to rebound from Friday's stunning tie with Gibraltar.

The Warriors got goals from Danny DeRousse, Danny Long, Kelly Mann, Fred Schuler, David Fernandez and Jeff Tinsley.

This was a good way for us to close out our season," said South coach Gene Baker about his club's final game of the regular season. "It's good to see that we've got our heads back on after Friday's game."

The Warriors ended the season with a record of 18-3-2 while North stands at 9-8 with one game remaining on its schedule. The Steelers face Belleville West today at home starting at 4 p.m.

The Illinois High School Association will announce playoff pairing later this week for subseasonal play.

JEFF DEMOTT of North's Steeler soccer team tries to control the ball Saturday afternoon at SIUE's Cougar Field before a Quincy player can reach it. The Steelers defeated the Blue Devils 1-0.

Here's an oddity from football... By an amazing coincidence, almost every leading runner in the National years has a last name that ends with the letter "N"...

There's O. J. Simpson, Walter

Paul Robinson. Each of those men led either the all their last names end in "N".

And then you can add other top runners like Chuck

There have been so many coaching changes in the National Football League that none of the 6 NFL divisions are starting the 1980 season

Heard Seeing just a hip here and a hip there, the Hardin defense didn't stand a chance. If they somehow managed to catch up with him, he made them cry.

Witness his last TD of the game. WITH 13 SECONDS left and the Sheshan Billy Papa at quarterback, Heard came to the sidelines and said, "One more time, coach. Please?"

Zoom. A burst of speed at the line of scrimmage left Hardin spitting dust and put six more points on the score board for Madison. A 33-yard touchdown run.

"Heard's the one," said Jakich. "He's got this whole team fired-up again."

"We were in the doldrums for a while. Week after week, working our tails off and week after week getting beat in games."

"BUT I TOLD the team that if we could make it through the injuries we'd have a shot at having a 500 season."

Madison has that chance. Next week, the 3-8 Trojans play St. Jacob-Triad.

BESIDES the 33-yarder at the end of the game, Heard scored TD's on a 47-yard run and on a 20-yard pass from Jackson.

Kenny Stanley opened the scoring for Madison in the first quarter when he scooped a 25-yard pass at the back of the end zone, kept his feet in bounds and managed to take the ball while covered well by the Hardin defensive back.

The other Madison touchdown was scored by Earnest Davenport on a 15-yard pass from Jackson. The Trojans also scored a safety in the third quarter.

yard line, North quarterback Danny Patterson, out of a shotgun formation, threw a pass that was intercepted by Althoff's Dave Rissier. He returned the ball all the way to the Steeler 20-yard line where he fumbled it into the waiting arms of North's Jeff Dugan.

THE STEELERS had lost two yards on the deal, but gained two downs. That's the good news.

The bad news is that on the very next play, Patterson was AGAIN intercepted and again it was Rissier. This time, he made it to the North 15-yard line where he held onto the ball as he was tackled.

On the next play, Althoff quarterback Craig Laskey tossed what appeared to be a touchdown pass to Tom Lehman, the Crusaders do-it-all halfback. But a holding call on Althoff nullified the TD.

Backed up to the North 31-yard line, Althoff again went to the air... and again picked up 15 yards. But again they lost 15 when a personal foul took them farther away from paydirt.

THE NORTH DEFENSE, perhaps inspired by some bad luck on the other side of the line for a change, took charge and stopped Althoff.

"I'm not going to stop telling my players to stick with it," said Wyrook. "They're getting better. I've noticed that they're not making as many silly mistakes as they used to be."

"Right now, the only thing they're lacking is experience." They're getting quite a bit of that right now, coach.

The hottest is even hotter for '79. Pontiac gave Firebird new front and rear end treatments. Recessed dual rectangular headlights. Full width rear taillights. A black special edition and distinctive Redbird model is also available. The Firebirds. See them... drive them... love them.

Utility case won by Scott

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced a victory Tuesday in a utility rate case that he said means millions of dollars in future savings for Illinois Bell Telephone customers, downstate power customers of the Union Electric Company, and the customers of all other Illinois utilities.

Scott's victory in the Union Electric case prevents the utility from using inflated market values of its property rather than the actual original cost in establishing the rate base that the company uses to establish charges for customers.

The Fourth District Appellate Court in Springfield cited its Union Electric opinion in rendering another decision the same day against Illinois Bell Telephone on the same issue.

The issue before the court was whether original cost or reproduction (fair market value) cost figures should be considered in determining the rates that utilities can charge.

In the Union Electric case, if original cost were used, the rate base would be $197,174,000. If current value figures were used, the rate base would be $403,082,000.

Even if a combination of the two methods were to be used — as Union Electric had proposed — the rate base would be $263,933,000, a difference of $66,760,000 that Union Electric argues should be included in the rate base.

Scott said that if the $66,760,000 were added to the rate base approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, the resulting revenue increase at a 7.53 percent rate of return would be an additional $5,277,308 that consumers would have to pay.

Scott pointed out that in the Illinois Bell case, the difference between Bell's current value estimate of $4,464,016,000 is approximately $1.95 billion. Additional revenues generated by $1.95 billion at a 7.53 percent rate of return would be $170,625,000. The court in the Bell case followed its decision rendered the same day in Union Electric vs. ICC, which Scott and his assistant, Hercules F. Bolos, argued.

Scott said use of market value or reproduction cost would provide a "windfall" value figure during an inflationary period, which he said would result in the utilities being granted a return on an investment which they did not make.

It would raise the utility's operating costs, he contended, since "extremely expensive reproduction estimates" would be classified as a proper expense.

Scott said use of reproduction cost studies in determining value is, for the most part, inconclusive.

Such a study posed a dilemma in its hypothetical assumptions, such as the amount to be offset for advances in technology, and the amount of depreciation to give to a hypothetically reproduced plant.

The end result of all this would be an estimate of a hypothesis, of what it would cost to reproduce the plant now. This would be reduced by another estimate (observed depreciation) to arrive at a mathematical uncertainty (reproduction cost less depreciation) which defines documentary verification or effective cross-examination.

Scott also said that, in addition, time-consuming and costly reproduction cost studies would add to a higher operating base of the companies and, therefore, the estimates themselves would become an additional financial burden on the consumer.

Scott pointed out that in one proceeding, appraisal of Chicago telephone properties cost $1,200,000, which will be passed on the consumers.

Scott pointed out that rates predicated upon replacement cost would give utilities a return on an investment which they have never made and which they never will make.

Scott said he is in complete agreement with the court opinion, which in part says that: "Original cost may be easily determined from the company's records. Use of original costs avoids misplaced reliance upon unreliable and incredibly expensive reproduction cost 'guesstimates', for which the consumer must pay."

"Rate-making should be as exact a science as possible, for the benefit of both the utility and the general public."

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Eric M. Mooshegian whose wedding took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison. The bride is the former Miss Denise Y. Spohr, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Spohr, 22 Miami Court.

Denise Y. Spohr bride of Eric M. Mooshegian

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison was the scene of the wedding on Sept. 16, of Miss Denise Y. Spohr, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Spohr, 22 Miami Court, and Eric M. Mooshegian, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric A. Mooshegian, 1811 Sixth St., Madison.

Bouquets of fall flowers on the altar and burning tapers in branch candelabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Father Conrad Motola.

A program of wedding music was furnished by organist Marilyn Bernais, guitarist Ron Ireland, a brother-in-law of the groom, and vocalist Melanie Asadorian. Selections included "We've Only Just Begun," "If," "Colour My World," "Time In A Bottle," "Ave Maria" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride wore a gown and veil created by an aunt of the groom, Mrs. Ann Tanase of Edwardsville. Fashioned in white chiffon over satin the dress was designed with Empire bodice accented with Chantilly lace, a satin mandarin collar and long bell sleeves, caught at the wrists with lace and satin cuffs.

Her A-line skirt was enhanced with lace motifs and fell gracefully into a chapel train. She wore a mantilla veil trimmed with lace appliques and she carried a cascade of white silk roses with baby's breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Donna Harper, as sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Miss Karen Mooshegian, the groom's sister, Mrs. Judy Messina and the junior bridesmaid Darla Spohr, another sister of the bride, wore identical gowns in a cinnamon hue.

Their dresses, created in polyester, were fashioned with Empire bodices, choir girl style necklines and long full dolman sleeves.

Each attendant wore silk autumn color poppies in their hair.

Tracy Davis, a niece of the bride, and Steven Galinski, the groom's nephew, served as the flower girl and ring bearer.

Robert Mooshegian attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Ron Motil, Paul Mooshegian, cousins of the groom, Louis Spohr, a brother of the bride, and David Mooshegian, another brother of the groom.

Guests were received by the newlyweds at a reception given in the St. Mary Parish Center. The rehearsal dinner was served by the groom's parents in their home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spohr chose a pale rose Qiana sleeveless gown with a slender skirt complemented by a short jacket with long sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Mooshegian, was attired in a peach chiffon dress featuring a neckline and long sheer sleeves.

A South High School graduate, the bride is employed at Granite City Text and Savings Bank. The groom is working as an apprentice electrician with Union Electric and he is a graduate of Assumption High School.

They are residing in Granite city after a wedding trip to the Bahamas.

During the evening the guests were entertained by a program of organ music played by Fred Johnson, husband of the hostess.

PATRICIA FLEMING

Guest Lecturer
Mrs. Fleming to speak here

Mrs. Patricia Angus Fleming of Wellington, New Zealand, a Christian Science lecturer will speak on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 8 p.m. at the First Church of Christ Scientist, 2550 Belmar Ave., according to William J. Mehl, chairman of the lecture committee of the local church.

He added Mrs. Fleming takes a radical stand in behalf of spiritual values and their importance to live, and repeatedly turns to the Bible in her lecture "Eternity Now" for reassurance that happiness need not come and go at the whim of past or future events.

In this lecture Mrs. Fleming turns to Christ Jesus' recognition of his divine sonship and of God's unlimited eternal nature. This, she feels, enabled the Master to refuse to be conditioned by time.

Mrs. Fleming, a member of the Board of Lecturers of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will be introduced by Mehl. Those needing transportation are advised to call 881-2430 or 877-3194, he added.

Halloween Carnival set Friday at Lake School

Following the pledge to the flag and the PTA prayer, Mrs. Louise Ware conducted a business session at the October meeting of the Lake School PTA.

Mrs. Alma Reynolds reported that a total of 97 members now belong to the Lake School PTA. This is below the projected goal and Mrs. Reynolds urged members to attempt to enroll others, since this is PTA Membership Month.

David Johnson, co-chairman of the ways and means committee with Mrs. Ann Siebert, announced that the candy sold in September by Lake's students has been delivered and that most of the receipts are in. He reported the money-raising event was a success.

Mrs. Phyllis Warford reviewed the Halloween Carnival to be held on Friday, Oct. 27, from 6 to 9 p.m. Special attractions will be helium balloons, a "spook house," a "witch's walk" where potted plants can be won, a "gory game room," and "Dracula's Disco Den." Hotdogs, potato and corn chips, big pickles, popcorn, cotton candy, ice cream bars, cup cakes, fruit punch and coffee will be available for sale, she said. Costume dress is being urged for all children and workers, but is not necessary, as no prizes will be awarded for costumes.

Mrs. Paula Turpenoff, co-chairman of the event, added that all children must be accompanied by a responsible adult.

Johnson presented for consideration a change in Lake School PTA By-Laws. This is for the election of officers to be held in March instead of April. This change will be presented for ratification in December, it was noted.

Open house will be held at Lake on Wednesday, Nov. 15, from 7 to 9 p.m., the first hour to be used for classroom visitation, and the last hour for distribution of candy-sale prizes, according to Mrs. Ware. Top winners will be announced at a later date.

Mrs. Ware thanked Johnson, PTA president for 1977-78, Edwards Gova, principal, Joe Hardesty and Leonard Reeves, school custodians, and Jim Slack for the construction and erection of the new school name sign on the front lawn. She added that this has brought many affirmative comments since its installation.

Following the business session, Mrs. Turpenoff, program chairman, introduced Rob Strick of the Social Service Department of St. Elizabeth Hospital, who presented a program on child abuse. A film entitled "Children in Peril" was shown, and a discussion period followed the film.

The program concluded, Mrs. Ware adjourned the meeting and refreshments were served by sixth-grade mothers.

The evening prize was presented to Shirley Strain and Mr. Noth's sixth-grade class won the attendance banner for October.

OCTOBER BRIDE. Mrs. Gary E. Morgan, the former Miss Cindy L. Wassman, who was married Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Bethalto. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Wassman of Bridgeton, Mo.

Miss Cindy Wassman and Gary E. Morgan are wed

The autumn wedding of Miss Cindy L. Wassman of East Alton, and Gary E. Morgan of Florissant, Mo., was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church in Bethalto.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Clarence Patton. A selected program of nuptial music was provided by Rich Alexander, organist, and Don Clark, soloist.

Miss Wassman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Wassman, Bridgeton, Mo., and is employed as a registered nurse at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City. The groom is a grandson of Mrs. Pearl Parr of Florissant.

For her wedding, the bride wore a formal length white organza gown accented with Venice fleurettes marking the slightly raised waistline and neckline.

The lace motifs were repeated on the long bishop sleeves and on the very full skirt that merged into a semi cathedral length train.

Satin Venice appliques and pearls trimmed the profile headpiece and secured her circular fingertip veil. Her bouquet was an arrangement of yellow Sweetheart roses, bronze mums and butterscotch carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Don Clark and the bridesmaids included Mrs. Kevin Zimmerman and Miss Christy Wassman, a sister of the bride.

They chose identical Empire style dresses in a spice color knit fashioned with a line skirt and high collars complemented with fitted circular capes.

The junior bridesmaid, Robin Morgan, a daughter of the groom, was dressed in a long frock created in spice knit with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and A-line skirt.

All the attendants carried baskets of bronze and yellow mums intermingled with yellow carnations.

The groom chose his cousin, Dale Sloan, as best man. Rick Wassman, a brother of the bride, Jeff Hatridge, a cousin of the groom, George Stamps, Donald Stark and Bill Hatridge, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall.

The newlywed couple left for a wedding trip to the Bahamas and will reside in East Alton when they return home.

The groom is a sales representative for Alton American Auto Dealership in Alton.

Knights of Columbus 'Candy Days'

Knights of Columbus Days for the Mentally Retarded will be held in the Quad-City area Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and Nov. 4, it is announced today by Grand Knight T. A. Feeler.

To help all Illinois adults and children who are mentally disabled, the Knights of Columbus councils throughout Illinois will sponsor their annual "Tootsie Roll Candy Sales" on Nov. 3 and 4, with all proceeds going to this worthy cause, Feeler said.

For the fifth consecutive year, members of the Tri-Cities Knights of Columbus Council 1096 will spearhead the drive in this area, under the leadership of A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, chairman, the grand knight announced.

August Sacadat, Stephen Salitch and John Jakich are co-chairmen for the candy campaign.

"We need all the help we can get," Metcalf said, urging anyone interested in assisting with the drive to contact Sacadat at 831-3722, Salitch, 877-7039, or Jakich, 831-3924.

"Every penny, dime and dollar is needed and will be deeply appreciated," Metcalf said.

The chairman noted that Illinois Governor James R.

Thompson and Chicago Mayor Michael A. Bilandic have signed proclamations setting aside the two dates for the candy sales. Metcalf said the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens and its 100-member units are assisting in the coordination of the fund raising program by providing "community awareness services and manpower."

Financial assistance is provided by the Illinois State Council of the Knights of Columbus to enable visits throughout the state by the Leadmobile unit.

The unit, equipped with testing devices for the detection of lead poisoning, recently visited the Quad-City area to test local school children.

Members of the Knights of Columbus in Illinois raised a total of $685,000 last year to aid the mentally retarded, Metcalf said.

Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., met at the National United Presbyterian Church and appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election.

Those named to serve on the committee were Marie Whittle as chairman, and Orville Ganz, Kenneth Whittington, Raymond Vaughn and Mrs. Minnie Dillard.

Deviations were given by the Rev. Don F. Pierson and he also gave a review of his trip to the Holy Land, its history and problems.

George Hopkins presided at the session and Mrs. Norma Petty, office secretary submitted a report for aid granted in September. She said the office processed 31 cases involving 61 persons for a total relief payment of $609 and six orders of clothing and shoes, with an estimated value of $29 was given to needy persons.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Irma Taylor, secretary, and Mrs. Marie Whittle, treasurer.

"This year we have set a goal of $750,000 for the state," the local chairman said, noting that the Tri-Cities Council has collected more than $17,350 in the five years the program has been carried out here.

The principal beneficiaries from the local drive, include: The Tri-City Association for Mentally Retarded; The Organization Assisting the Handicapped (OATH, Inc.); Madison County Association for Mentally Retarded; a Boy Scout troop for handicapped youth; and special schools for retarded children and special aids to help them.

Metcalf said the late Monsignor Lawrence Mattingly of St. Elizabeth Church was president of OATH at the time of his death and was an avid supporter of the OATH program for some years.

It was also noted the past president of the county association is a Granite City resident and that the county group assists many local residents.

Each beneficiary of funds is checked to confirm that all financial gifts are used to help area, children and adults, Metcalf said.

All mentally retarded persons need the support of the general public, so they can develop into productive and contributing members of society, the drive officer stated.

The Knights of Columbus volunteers will be easily visible Nov. 3 and Nov. 4, Metcalf said.

All will wear bright yellow aprons and carry a Tootsie Roll canister and the candy, he added.

"No donations will be too small, so please give what you can afford. It will be put to good use and deeply appreciated," Metcalf stressed.

Repairs were made to the building and a completed house committee report will be available at the Nov. 21 meeting to be held at the First United Presbyterian Church, The Dec. 19 session is scheduled at the First Assembly of God Church, it was noted.

FSA initiate and install in afternoon ceremonies

An overflow audience of more than 200 attended the eighth annual initiation and installation ceremonies of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association held last week in the fellowship hall at Central Christian Church. This marks the first year that separate FSA chapters have been formed for the two schools, and the new GCHS-North chapter was presented with its charter and an FSA pennant.

In charge of the afternoon's activities was Mrs. Charlie Vunovic, chairman of the FSA committee for the Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

Parents and friends of the initiates were told of the responsibilities of the sponsoring unit, the Tri-Cities Chapter, which include lending assistance in arranging chapter programs and in orienting the faculty advisor and chapter officers, present in attendance at each FSA chapter meeting, making all reports to NSA as required, and making certain the FSA chapter is operated according to the NSA rules and regulations.

Also stressed was the purpose of an FSA chapter: to bring to the student a better understanding of the business world through association with experienced secretaries, to stimulate interest in the secretarial profession; to encourage an appreciation of the importance of desirable work habits, attitudes, and responsibilities; and to encourage students to aspire to a high level of competence through a continuing program of education after graduation from school or college.

The new officers and initiates were presented with pink carnation corsages, and all guests received the FSA Code of Ethics in scroll form, tied with a ribbon and decorated with an artificial pink rose.

Mrs. Joyce Savich, president of the Tri-Cities Chapter, told the audience of the activities of the local chapter, and invited all qualified individuals to participate in the chapter meetings. Explaining the international and division structure of The National Secretaries Association (Int'l.) was Mrs. June Moede, CPS, a former member of the International Institute for Certifying Professional Secretaries, and a member of the Alton NSA Chapter.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Vunovic, assisted by Mrs. Gail Foley, CPS, past president of the Tri-Cities Chapter, GCHS-North GSA chapter will be guided by Rena Hill, president; Karen Myracle, vice president; Anita Wallace, recording secretary; Sharon Sackett, corresponding secretary; Lorraine Luehmann, treasurer; and Susy Thomason and Rita Collins, board members at large.

Holding officer positions at GCHS-South are Dawn Cox, president; Theresa Helge, vice president; Lori Taylor, treasurer, and May Arney and Angie Griffey, board members at large.

Speaking on behalf of the faculty advisors was Mrs. Jeanette Holder of GCHS-South. Due to illness in the family, Mrs. Linda Haddox was unable to be present as faculty advisor from North, and Mrs. Judi Sparks, past advisor from the inception of the chapter in 1971 to 1978, served as substitute for Mrs. Haddox.

The total membership of both chapters totals 94. GCHS North has 32 new members and 15 second-year members. GCHS South has 30 new members and 17 second-year members. Last year's total membership of 99 put the Granite City High School FSA chapter first in the state with the largest number of members. The total number of FSA members in Illinois as of May 31 was 832; throughout the states there is a total of 11,946. Mrs. Savich was in charge of the initiation ceremonies for new members, assisted by Mrs. Moede. The presidents of the FSA chapters called the names of the initiates, and pins and membership cards were presented to the first by faculty advisors Mrs. Holder and Mrs. Sparks, after which they participated in a candle-lighting ceremony and recitation in unison of the FSA code of ethics.

Following closing remarks by FSA presidents Rena Hill and Dawn Cox, the guests participated in refreshment furnished by the Tri-Cities Chapter members and second-year FSA members.

GCHS South plans to have a program on rape prevention at its next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 7. A speaker from Miss Hickey's will be featured at GCHS North's meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 24.

Art exhibit at Guild meeting

An art exhibit featuring the works of members of the Granite City Art Guild was the highlight of a monthly meeting of the club held at 1412 Madison Avenue, last week.

All work was done in oils and during the evening ribbons were awarded to the prize winners. These receiving honors were Roy Honeymer, Norma Turner and Mary Schiller. Honorable mention went to Thelma Laythroe and Jeanette Pinkston.

The program for the evening was a demonstration on the proper process to stretch canvases in preparation to paint.

President Vicki Mertz announced a show will be held at each meeting and the next gathering is set for Nov. 21 at 7 p.m.

She welcomed six new members and noted the membership now shows 31 active members.

Philathea Class meet at church

The Philathea Class met in the parlor of the Niedringhaus Church for its October meeting, with Lucy Weaver presiding. It was attended by twelve members and one guest, Faye Steele of Gary, Ind., who is Katherine Van Order's sister.

The hostesses, Geneva Wallis and Ann Jolly served a dessert luncheon. Bethel Davis gave the invocation.

Mable Stewart read a letter from Mary Ahlvers, class president, who is in California where she attended the wedding of a granddaughter.

Miss Stewart also gave the devotion for the day. She read an article by Father Guild of Lady of the Snow which told of narrow escapes and brought out the idea that one should thank God for mishaps which do not happen to us. She read articles from Guideposts and the Daily Blessing Magazine which dealt with the same theme.

Lucy Weaver read a poem "Quiet Places" by Violet Bigelow Rourke and a story, "Walk Tall, Woman" by Phyllis Simolke, which showed how one woman gained courage through prayer and avoided a threatening confrontation.

Silent prayer, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison, closed the meeting.

Fire truck bids studied

Two bids to furnish Granite City a new fire pumper equipped with a telescopic aerial ladder were submitted to the City Council last week but were referred back to the Fire and Water Committee pending a check of the bid offers against specifications.

Alderman Warren Decatur, a member of the committee, reported the city had received two bids and that an offer by the American-LaFrance Co. of Elmira, N.Y., appeared to be the lowest of the two. He suggested the committee study the bids and make a recommendation at the council's next meeting Tuesday night.

Damage charge

Hearing glass break in a display window on the south side of Hudson Jewelry store, 19th and State streets, at 2:15 a.m. Friday, a Granite City resident saw a man run to a car and jump in, then watched the vehicle driven away by a second man.

Arrested a short time later in connection with the incident was Dennis J. Cruise, 23, of 2853 Washington Ave., who was charged with criminal damage to property. He was released on payment of $35 cash bond.

A warrant is being sought against the driver of the vehicle, police said.

The Seagram-Ellenbach Co. of St. Louis submitted a base bid of $89,448 for the pumper, while the Snorkel Division of ATO, Inc., of St. Joseph, Mo., submitted a bid of $88,300 to provide a 50-foot telescopic aerial tower, for a total cost of $127,748.

The American-LaFrance bid was $86,206 for the pumper, with an alternate bid of $130,965 for the combined pumper and tower equipment. The company provided, however, that the alternate bid price would be reduced to $124,000 if the city pays 50 percent of the total cost within two weeks after bid acceptance, thus making the total cost $3,749 below the Seagram-Ellenbach bid.

Council members also referred to the city engineer three bids to provide asphalt for the city's part of the job in replacing the Niedringhaus Avenue railroad crossings in the downtown area.

While the tracks are being repaired by the railroads, the city is to resurface and widen the street for about a half block on each side of the tracks.

Edward Schulze, assistant city engineer, told the aldermen that bids to furnish and spread asphalt for the resurfacing were received from C. D. Peters Construction Co., Macclair Asphalt Co. and Reese Construction.

He explained that the C. D. Peters firm was the apparent low bidder, but that the Illinois Department of Transportation requires a contractor to operate its own asphalt plant to bid on jobs that will be financed by motor fuel tax funds. Schulze said that the Peters firm does not own its own plant, while the other two bidders do. This would appear to disqualify the Peters firm, Schulze said.

New rules signal wider variety of wines

The new wine regulations from the U.S. Treasury's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms could lead to some interesting combinations of varieties being listed on wine labels in the coming years.

Under the old regulations, a winery could list a variety on the label if the bottle contained a minimum of 51 percent of that variety. A winery occasionally would list the other grapes in the blend on a back label, neck label or nonprominent position. The use of multiple varieties on the label was not allowed.

Under the new regulations, which take effect on Jan. 1, 1983, a winery is given the option of listing the names of two or three grape varieties. If this is the case, the winery must also show on the label the percentage of each variety used. This could be educational and informative for wine drinkers of any level of expertise.

For example, Chateau

Lafite-Rothschild, perhaps the most famous name in winemaking, carries on its label little more than its name, the name of the commune of Pauillac and the vintage year. Few people know that its 90 hectares of vineyards are planted with two-thirds Cabernet Sauvignon, one-sixth Merlot and one-sixth Cabernet Franc. The wine usually speaks for itself so eloquently one is not concerned with the constituent grapes. But I've always had a curiosity about such things and imagine other wine drinkers would feel the same.

In California, some of the better wineries are trying to establish their own enological signatures with their Cabernet Sauvignon wines, or those made in similar manners to those of Bordeaux.

Under the new regulations, we could very well see someone like Warren Winard of Stag's Leap wine cellars list "Cabernet Sauvignon-Merlot" on his label and then list a percentage such as 90 percent Cabernet and 5 percent Merlot.

Some wineries already use the side or back labels to list the varietal content of their wines and other viticultural and enological considerations. The new regulations will carry this even further, allowing wineries to print any information that is truthful and accurate. This includes statements about aging the wines. BATF will not, however, allow wineries to use vintage designations for wines blended from two vintages, such as 1974-75.

Hopefully, U.S. wineries will use these new regulations to provide consumers with as much information as possible about the grapes used in their wines and the facts that mean something to its quality — from the degree of sugar in the grapes at harvest time up through the length of time the wine was aged.

City okays $35,000 for traffic signal

An appropriation of $35,000 in motor fuel tax funds for installation of an electric traffic signal at St. Clair and Jull avenues was approved by the City Council last week, but action was delayed on another resolution providing another $5,000 in MFT funds for design work on the signal.

The aldermen decided to hold up on the $5,000 after several council members questioned Edward Schulze, assistant city engineer, as to whether the city engineering department could design the traffic signal. Schulze replied that such design work is a specialty type of engineering and that the work is done by specialists in that field.

By motion by Warren Decatur, an alderman of the Fourth Ward, the council voted to delay action on the $5,000 appropriation to determine if the design work may be done by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Installation of an electric signal at St. Clair and Jull was authorized by the council in its Sept. 19 meeting after a delegation of parents of children attending St. Margaret Mary School told the aldermen that the heavy flow of traffic in St. Clair Avenue constitutes a danger to children who must cross the street at the school.

Sister Maria Monica, principal of the school, told the council that it is becoming increasingly difficult for crossing guards to halt traffic at the school and that something should be done before "someone is injured or killed."

In a related action, the aldermen approved a resolution appropriating $30,461 in motor fuel tax to pay the city's share of relocating a six-inch gas main along Maryville Road between O'Hare Avenue and Terminal Avenue for construction of the Maryville Road improvement.

The total cost of having the line relocated by the Illinois Power Co. amounted to $60,460 and was shared by the city and the county. The Maryville Road extension from Pontoon Road to Highway 162 was built by the county with Granite City paying for that share of construction work inside the city limits.

In other action last week, the council placed on file another request by P.N. Hirsch Co. for the removal of two parking meters at its store on State Street, noting that the space was needed for a loading zone.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's traffic committee, noted that he and his committee had rejected the request previously and would attempt to do so because the meters involved are in prime locations.

The Book Publishing Co. of Seattle, Wash., notified the council by letter that it expects to complete the printing and binding of new City Code books for release sometime during November.

The council referred to the City Plan Commission a request by Irvin Slate Jr. for rezoning of property at 2122 Edison from the present R-5 (multiple residential) to C-1 (commercial) zoning to be used as a law office. Slate, assistant city attorney, said the property is owned by Helen Gantcheff and the purchaser is Anne Slate.

THE INTERNATIONAL SLIM GOURMET COOKBOOK; By Barbara Gibbons, Harper and Row; 400 Pages; $13.95. Gibbons writes for those with one eye on the table and the other on their waistlines. Can taste-tempting delights be concocted that do not balloon the weight of the swallower? She thinks so — and offers all kinds of mouth-watering recipes to prove her point. Gibbons also has herself to show as proof. She dropped from 208 pounds a dozen years ago to 128 pounds today.

'Blue sky laws,
smiling at me...

Q. What is a Blue Sky Law?

A. In order to have some form of orderly buying and selling of stocks, plus protection for the investors, many states adopted laws which required state agencies to check on the accuracy and truth in the literature promoting stock sales. If these companies met agency requirements, they were registered and approved. This registration and approval were called "blue sky" laws. Blue Sky Laws came into existence before the Securities and Exchange Commission, which is on the Federal level, and regulates securities activities for every state.

HOLLYWOOD — Daryl Hall and John Oates as 1978 stars in turn down. A slash of "Rich Girl" and "Sara Smile" fame, Daryl and John spent much of the summer in a garage and recording studio working out their current "Along the Red Ledge" album for RCA.

Now it's four times they are backed up by a band they finally assembled after looking for a long time in vain for a dual purpose tour-recording unit. They wiped guitarist Caleb Quaye, bassist Kenny Passarelli and drummer Roger Pope from Elton John. And added keyboardist David Kent and saxophonist Charlie DeChant who they feel is a perfect mix.

"We've been off the road since February — our longest break from touring in two years — and we want to get that live energy flowing again," says Oates. Energy is the key to their "Red Ledge" LP. Adds Oates: "Rather than try to make a perfect album, when the decision came to go for perfection or energy, we opted for energy."

Q. We're going to Europe shortly after I retire. It will be our first trip. The travel agency said I needed a passport. When I went to obtain one, I was told I must need a certified copy of my birth certificate or the original one. I was born in 1914 in Illinois. Could you tell me where to go to get my birth certificate?

A. You should contact the county clerk, in the county where you were born. Do it as soon as possible, as it takes several weeks for a passport to be processed.

Chase from Venice ends in circle at St. Louis

Because he failed to pay the 30 cent fee at the McKinley Bridge toll booth in Venice, a "Pine Lawn, Mo. man" being sought for driving a stolen car after he eluded police from several communities and drove the vehicle in a virtual circle, ending up on Interstate 70 at the East Grand Avenue exit in St. Louis.

The chase began at 1:45 a.m. Saturday when the driver of a 1974 Mark IV Lincoln Continental failed to pay the 30 cent toll after crossing the McKinley Bridge from St. Louis.

The driver turned on a cutoff road to Lincoln Avenue, Venice, and then onto Route 3 south, while a Venice officer attempted to stop him in a squad car, flashing his red lights.

National City police, alerted by Venice, set up a roadblock in the pursued vehicle's path, but the Mark IV driver went around the highway blockade and drove onto the westbound Interstate 1-55-70 toward the Poplar Street Bridge.

Illinois State Police notified St. Louis City Police Department that a chase was in progress. Again, the driver managed to elude officers and turned off the bridge onto westbound I-70.

The pursuit ended when the vehicle went down an embankment at the East Grand Avenue exit on I-70 and struck a fence. The driver then fled on foot in the vicinity of the 400 block of North Broadway.

Two Brooklyn police officers began chasing the man, but lost the suspect along Broadway. The St. Louis K-9 unit and the Illinois officers also searched the area without results.

However, the driver had left behind an 11-year-old Pine Lawn boy.
